BURN WAREHOUSES AT RUSSELLVILLE

Night Riders Invade Kentucky Town and Dynamite Tobacco Buildings, Setting Them on Fire—Property Damaged.

RUSSELLVILLE, KY.—Special.—Night riders visited this town at 12:45 this morning and dynamited and burned the tobacco warehouses of P. G. Clark & Company, and the American Work Company. The planing mill of Roberts & Brown and three smaller houses were also damaged. Many shots were fired. There were between fifty and seventy-five masked men in the party, and they were in town about an hour. The Louisville and Nashville station was threatened by flamer, but escaped. The attack was unexpected.

Russellville is a town of about 4,000 inhabitants, and is the county seat of Logan county, which borders on the Tennessee line.

SPENT OVER MILLION IN NEW YEAR FESTIVITIES

NEW YORK—Special—One hundred thousand persons who celebrated in Greater New York restaurants in New York last night ushered in the new year spent $1,000,000. The average expenditure was $11.50 each.

At the Cafe Martin the total receipts were $4,000, the figure exceeded all previous records. The cafe Savarin took in $3,000. About 5,000 quarts of champagne were drunk by the 1,500 persons present.

The celebration was the most popular in its scope of any that has been held in New York in twenty years.

INQUIRY HAS COST MORE THAN $30,000

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Special.—The Senate Committee on Military Affairs spent the investigation of the Brownsville shooting affair, which began in Washington on May 15, 1906, between July 1, 1906, and June 30, 1907, according to the report of the Secretary of the Senate, just published. Most of the items are for traveling and other expenses, of witnesses, averaging between $100 and $200 each. The inquiry last for $2,797, for reporting and transcribing the hearings.

MANY ARE HURT IN NEGRO RIOTS

MUNCIE, IND.—Special—After two hours of rioting, during which a mob of 5,000 held sway over the residence section of Muncie yesterday, three men were dead, two probably will die and perhaps fifty others were injured from stones and bricks. The rioting began when a negro who was put in the interurban car was sent to the barns. The crowd gathered and the fight was on. Car streets, car conductors and motormen were driven from their cars. Among those injured are Jesse Cline, furniture dealer, shot in leg; Morris Maley, shot in groin; Harry Gardner, a wholesale grocer, cut on the head.

YOUNG MAN KILLED IN PECULIAR FASHION

NORFOLK.—Special—S. W. Baker, a well known young man of the county, was accidentally killed yesterday morning with a Winchester rifle.

He had been fishing with a friend and the latter's wife in a boat in a lake which a mule was hitched. Getting tangled in the lines, the mule started off, pulling with the ride barrel to quicken its pace and the trigger caught, firing the load and killing Mr. Baker almost instantly.

OWNERS FEAR LOSS OF IMMIGRANT STEAMER

ST. JOHN, N. B.—Special.—Fate of the Canadian Pacific steamer Mount Royal, twenty-five days out from Antwerp, with 1,000 immigrants aboard, nearly four hundred persons on board, is causing great anxiety.

Not one vessel arriving in the last three weeks had reported the Mount Royal, and the lack of news is regarded as ominous.

The Mount Royal is upward of 7,000 tons gross. She carried a small cargo. The Mount Royal had on board on leaving Antwerp 305 steerage passengers, 400 cabin passengers and a few Belgians. She also carried a crew of eighty men.

APPOINT PILLSBURY TO SUCCEED BROWNSON

WASHINGTON. — Special. — J. E. Pillsbury has been appointed successor to Admiral Brownson on the Bureau of Navigation.

WOMAN BURNED TO DEATH AT ALDERMANIC COUNTY HOME

CHARLOTTESVILLE.—Special.—With her clothing ablaze and screaming for assistance, Mrs. Sidi Kirby, matron of the Albemarle County Alms House, rushed about the living room of the home in their quarters at the poor farm until her clothing was entirely consumed, death following within four hours. The tragedy occurred in the presence of her terrified children, whose cries, together with the roar of the flames and the shrieks of a woman who ran from the room in a panic, brought assistance, but too late. Mrs. Kirby's clothing caught fire as she stood by the stove. Her body was fearfully burned.

SEMI-CENTENNIAL POPE'S FIRST MASS

ROME.—Special.—Fifty years ago Pope Pius, then plain Father Giuseppe Mastai Ferretti, celebrated and sang his first mass to the poor folk of that congregation. Yesterday, as supreme head of the Catholic Church on earth, he celebrated the semi-centennial of that first mass with no more pomp or show of power than characterized his entrance into the priesthood.

In 1838 the similar jubilee of Pope Leo, his predecessor, was observed in the coming of 200,000 pilgrims to Rome. The glory of that celebration is still remembered. At the present ceremony St. Peter had only the priests and cardinals and those people who came out to witness, but to worship.

Pope Pius would permit no gorgeous preparations for the event, but in keeping with his well-known desire to humble himself, he had decreed that the mass to be celebrated should recall the humble beginning of his career.

The celebration of the semi-centennial of this event will continue throughout the week.

COUNTRY BOYS LEAP FROM MOVING TRAIN

ROANOKE, VA.—Special—Lafonso and Ben Dudley, country boys, twelve and fifteen years old, were badly injured and narrowly escaped being killed by jumping from a moving train in Franklin county yesterday. They did not know the train was to stop. They were brought to a hospital in Roanoke.

NEGRO ASSASSIN IS SHOT TO DEATH

BROOK HAVEN, MISS.—Special.—A negro, arrested here yesterday, accused of shooting Officer Stringer at Cassandra, Tuesday night, was taken by force from the officers, who were conducting him to the county jail here. After the affair the negro was identified as being "Coot" Autman, who assassinated Policeman McCormick on the 10th of December. Two police officers have been assassinated here in the past month. Autman was implicated in the assault on Miss Ruth Williams last week.

GIVES HIGH PRAISE TO JOHN S. WILLIAMS

John Temple Graves, in New York American, Predicts Restoration Southern Man to Presidency of the Seaboard Air Line.

NEW YORK—Special—Jno. Temple Graves has the following editorial in this morning's American:

"It is not likely that the receivership of the Seaboard Air Line Railroad will have any appreciably lowering effect upon financial conditions in the Southern States. There has been for some years past a fierce and insistent rivalry between the majority and minority represented in the Seaboard Air Line, and this has been more particularly expressed in the personal antagonism between two men.

It was predicted by mutual friends that ex-President Williams would never rest contented until the Ryan interests were dethroned, and he himself re-established in the presidency of the road.

The possibility that this result will follow the receivership is calculated rather to inspire confidence than to decrease it throughout the South.

Mr. Williams is perhaps easily one of the most popular railroad men who has ever figured in southern development. He was a constructive and constructing railroad man. His railroad world, and during his connection with the Seaboard he gained almost universal respect and confidence and regard of the sections of country through which it passed, and Mr. Williams himself was the most active friend of his constructive policies.

It is quite likely that if the receivership results in this change of administration, President John S. Williams will be received with acclaim by the industrial and commercial interests of the South who believe in his constructive genius and in his capacity to serve the best interests of the road, and of the sections of country through which it passes.

SERVANTS' HALL LITERATURE.

By James J. Montague.

[Upton Sinclair and other novelists have been getting points on how the rich live by working for them as servants.—News Item.]

No more the Newport hostess' head
Is bowed with carking cares
Regarding what is done and said
By those below the stairs.
The butler wears a wonderful brow,
The nursemaid stays in nights,
For all the serving persons now
Are literary lights.

You, fellah, shoveling in disdain
Behind the guest's chair—that's Hall Caine.

The lady in the apron who
Is hailing vermicelli
Into the steaming, savory stew
Is Marie Corelli,
While Rudyard Kipling stiffly stands
There with the doe's a-lar.
And ceremoniously hands
The potage from her navel.
The while he's toting down with care
"A clothespin with a bank of hair!"

Out in the tile-lined carriage room,
In raiment crude and coarse,
Is Henry James, disgusted groom,
And currying a horse.
By his perturbed portentous frown
And cerebrating eyes
One sees he's doing "color" down
In words of giant size.
When master will come to hand
In books we shall not understand.

So, aren't you glad that you have not
A household full of servants?
Who find the faults that you have got
And stab them with a pen—
A cook who sets down on the sly
Your every scrap of wit,
A groom who writes that you eat pie
And eat it with a knife?
We folk who live in almost hovels,
At least have out of intellectuals.

A Mean Man.

Mrs. H.—I saw a book today, Harry, I thought of getting you for a birthday present. It was entitled "How to Be Happy Though Married."

Mr. H.—My dear, you know I never read fiction.—Illustrated Bits.

TUCKER ANNOUNCES HE IS A CANDIDATE

Formally Declares That He Will Make the Race for Governor of Virginia.

STAUNTON, VA.—Special.—

Former Congressman Harry George Tucker, who has more recently been known to the public as president of the Jamestown Exposition, yesterday at Staunton removed all doubt as to his political ambitions by formally announcing his candidacy for the governorship.

When questioned about the matter Mr. Tucker said:

"I am very glad to answer the question here in my old home, and to make the first authorized statement right here that I am in the race for the governorship. I felt that up to the present I could not with propriety make such announcement, but now that the convention is over, my friends here and throughout the State to know that I have determined to make the race, and I can promise them that it will be active all along the line."

"What will be your platform?" was asked.

"It is too early yet to lay down a platform. Indeed, no candidate can make issues; they are made by the people; but one thing I can say I have very near my heart, and that is that we shall have in Virginia in every magisterial district in the State, at least one high school, at which every boy or girl in that district may secure an education sufficient to carry them through life successfully."

Souvenir Postals Stop Thieving.

"This idea of having free souvenir postal cards bearing a picture of the hotel has probably saved the big hotels thousands of dollars," observed Dave Mills, assistant manager at the Rudd the other day. "The souvenir postals have served to cut down the amount of petty thieving from the hotels by pilferers who call themselves souvenir hunters. In a few many instances a postal card will serve as a relief for souvenir fiends in a guest, and these days few people in many of these or four postals in many a hand a hotel register. Silver spoon that used to might often wise have taken along."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

SEIZE FIFTY-ONE BOTTLES OF COCAINE

Richmond Police Make Big Raid on Illicit Traffickers.

CAPTURE . TWO SELLERS

Confiscated Drug Represents Retail Value of $2,550.—Believe That Arrested Parties Are Old Offenders.

RICHMOND, VA.—Special.—

One of the most important captures made by the police in recent months was effected by Hoyole Policeman Kellum and Bryant this morning, and, as a result, F. H. Albright and his wife, Mary Albright, will be the subjects of severe penalty of the sale of cocaine. If they were captured under the same circumstances a month hence, each would go to the penitentiary, while, in the present laws, however, which is coming session of the legislature will change in these cases, magistrates will get no worse, probably, than $200 fine and a year in jail.

They are the wholesale handlers of the drug that is responsible for many of the petty crimes committed in Richmond, and every policeman in the city has been anxious to catch them for three years, as if they are the only wholesale dealers the capture will greatly lessen the work of the force.

The capture is largely due to an accident, but with the fine work Messrs. Kellum and Bryant manifested lately started on the trail, and in less than half an hour had made their arrests, had taken the office of the chief of police to count the contents of bottle, and which were at $2.61 a bottle, and which would bring the street price to the street dealers $1,550; print of an almost uniform size, 5 per cent. It was shipped here from Norfolk and Major Pond, who has already requested the arrest of the man who sent it here.

This morning Mr. Kellum looked into an express company's office and saw a bundle about eighteen inches long, and ten inches in width and height. A corner of the wrapping was torn and from it protruded a bottle about three inches high and an inch and a half in diameter. Upon it was the label—Cocaine. This is the pure article, a small quantity of which is mixed with granulated sugar and sold for fifty cents per bottle. Each of the small bottles sent to Albright, who is well known to the police, both as Floyd and Harrison Albright. He runs a pressing and cleaning establishment, adjoining the city hall, on Capital, and there he and his wife were arrested.

Mr. Kellum at first intended to take the package from the wagon, but the driver asked to be allowed to deliver it to the address given. Without saying anything with it the policemen were waiting.

Several months ago a negro boy about fourteen years old was arrested and convicted of breaking into the store of Mr. Purcell & Leake. He carried a satchel, and the theory of the police was, at that time, that the young negro would hide himself in the store and steal cocaine, and that it was with this that he was supplied. The little negro was released, and it was afterward found in the pressing and cleaning house of Albright, consisting a small quantity of the drug. Albright said it was sent to him by the boy, which fact evidences the boy was convicted.

It is probable that after Albright is convicted the boy will be pardoned.

MRS. BRONSON HOWARD SUES FOR DIVORCE

BALTIMORE.— Special.— Another chapter has been added to the romance of the marriage of George B. Bronson Howard, of this city, to Miss Adrian Skinner, of Norfolk, Va., last March, by the filing of divorce papers by the latter in Circuit Court No. 2.

The bill was filed Thursday, but it was not made public until yesterday, when it was learned that the couple had been separated and estranged for two years. Mrs. Howard lives at 344 East Lafayette Avenue and is a magazine writer.

The courtship of the writer and Miss Skinner was a brief one. They were married in the latter's home on the two days' visit. On March Around the Corner, in spite of the protests and efforts of many of the friends of either party were aware of the engagement. Mrs. Howard was a widow, and is a daughter of Mrs. Howard London and Paris.

Mr. Howard turned up later in New York without Mrs. Howard, and he began proceedings for divorce on the May 8th. The writer declared that he had left his wife solely on account of a wide difference in tastes.

Mrs. Howard returned to New York a short time afterward, and accused of cruelty in statements by Howard. Mrs. Howard is a daughter of Mrs. William W. Skinner, of Norfolk, and was an industrious man—a blacksmith by trade.

SWAMP VICTIM WAS MOTORMAN'S WIFE

Body of Murdered Woman Is at Last Believed to Be Positively Identified—Husband Is Put Under Arrest.

NEW YORK.—Special.—The body of the swamp victim has been positively identified as that of Mrs. Helena Salter Whitmore, wife of Frederick S. Whitmore, a motorman on the Third Avenue elevated railroad, as was also a member of the notorious Kelly gang, according to the police. Whitmore today was held a prisoner in the Harrison jail at Harrison, N. J., on an order signed by Police Justice Breslegan, to await the coroner's inquest. There has been no specific charge made against him, but the police say his conflicting statements, and his conduct warrant his detention.

There are two scratches on Whitmore's face. One is on the right side just below the ear. The other is on the left jaw. Both scratches, the police say, look as though made by a woman's finger nails. The marks are inflicted a week or more ago.

The positive identification was made by Mrs. Schnitters, a sister of the dead woman, who lives at 486 East Eighteenth street.

Mrs. Whitmore and her husband were married fifteen years ago in Albany. Whatever may have been her relations with her husband, of late had had frequent quarrels, and she had often been beaten. The neighbors tell of the vicious quarrels of the couple. Whitmore has been arrested for assaulting his wife. Mrs. Whitmore herself had been arrested for improper conduct.

The Rev. Reverdy Cassius Ball, who has been educated for the bar in New York," says the New York Sun, "has never said nothing to the crowds of men we know have graduated a respectable degree in the sign language of the blind tiger.

Washington Herald:

We don't want to fight, but, by Jingo, if we do, we've got the men, we've got the ships, we've got the bichloride of mercury, the chloroform, the scalpel, the bandages, the calomel and soda, the quinine, the formaldehyde, and the little liver pills, too.

Washington Times:

Representative Watson, of Indiana, writes that he is busy running for Governor. Busy is a mighty mild way of putting it when you are after an office in Hoosierdom. Trying to catch two fleas at once is a sedentary occupation alongside of running for has even township trustee in that State.

Columbia State:

The Pagan rural journalism clergyman that refused five double eagles, or $150 in cash, because they did not have the old motto, and because, as he said, "I never I would take no money that did not bear the old motto," is, or ought to be, familiar with certain pertinent texts in the Bible; but it might do him good to turn over at least two of them. Romans xiii, 7. Matthew xxii, 21. Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's."

Charleston News and Courier:

The line officers would not under-stand it were we to take charge of the sick on shipboard; they know nothing about the business of caring for the sick, but they do understand the necessity of navigation. That is their business. It is utter folly, and worse than folly it seems to us, for the doctors in the navy to ask for, and for the President to demand the command of any of the ships of the line. Instead of being "a fashionable medical practice, but not yet quite made up our minds to take the trip. It isn't Texas.

Columbia State:

Senator Carter must have analyzed his blood very particularly. He gives his strain as seven-sixteenths Chickasaw and Cherokee Indian and nine-sixteenths Scotch-Irish. He is probably the only human being in the world of precisely this distribution of Barbarian, which is fascinating to the race, should keep an eye on Mr. Carter.

Florida Times-Union:

Resist the advent of free advertising given to John Sharp Williams and Mr. Bryan. Roosevelt, Taft, Foraker, the Indiana novelist, got into a rough and tumble that threatens some with police. Now the whole country knows that Mr. Bryan's profit from being the poor editor. No wonder the business office looks at the number of free puffs that creep in.

Charlotte Chronicle:

That was an exquisite bit of irony on part of Senator Joseph F. Johnson, of Alabama, in beginning a talk to a Boston audience on the negro. He spoke on the negro question by request and approached the task with some delicacy, because his first experience as a period of only fifty years. "During the war between the States the men who seemed most capable of dissecting the movements of one another were those remote from the front, and their judgment became more infallible according to the squares of their distance from the firing line."
